Job Description

The School of Education at Nevada State College invites applications for Full-time Lecturer in the area of Special Education, to begin in the Fall of 2021. The individual in this position would teach introductory, characteristics, and/or methods courses that lead to a Nevada teaching license in Generalist Special Education, Autism, Intellectual Disability, and/or Early Childhood Special Education at the undergraduate and post-baccalaureate level.

About Nevada State College

Founded in 2002, Nevada State College (NSC) is a four-year public college located on a developing 512-acre campus in the foothills of Henderson, Nevada (adjacent to Las Vegas). Our faculty members enjoy the rare opportunity to mold the college as it continues to grow into a cornerstone of higher education in Southern Nevada. NSC faculty work in state-of-the-art facilities that feature “smart” classrooms. The average class size across campus is 27 students. For more information about NSC, watch this https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nLG0CjbiOd8https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=p30x3TXQbms

NSC serves over 5,500 students who are highly diverse and largely underserved; a majority of NSC students are first generation, racial/ethnic minorities, parents, and/or returning students. As a teaching-oriented institution, our faculty focus on high-quality instruction, engaging learning experiences, and innovative techniques to improve student learning.

About the School of Education

Our School of Education (SOE) is an exciting place to be. More than 1,200 undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, and graduate students are pursuing licensure programs in elementary, special, & secondary education as well as speech-language pathology. In response to a statewide shortage of K-12 educators, NSC has made a strong commitment to building out the School of Education (SOE). New academic programs will be added, and exciting new initiatives launched:

• Master's Degree in Speech-Pathology launched in the Fall of 2019.
• Baccalaureate Degree in Elementary Education with Emphasis in Bilingual Education launched in the Fall of 2020
Baccalaureate program in Inclusive Early Childhood Education (EC/ECSE) poised to launch in the Fall of 2021

A new School of Education building will open in the summer of 2021; in addition to being home for all SOE programs, faculty, and staff, the new facility will include an early childhood education center and a speech-language pathology clinic.

Diversity and Inclusion Statement:

At Nevada State College, we celebrate the storied backgrounds of our campus community. We operate with a shared commitment to represent and serve the diverse population of Nevada and to encourage the exchange of ideas that respects and honors the lived experiences of our students, staff, and faculty. We foster a culture of inclusive excellence so our members can live authentically, fully engage, and flourish. In order to strengthen the college and progress its mission, the college dedicates itself to intentional and ongoing reflection to meeting the evolving needs of NSC, the surrounding communities, and the State of Nevada.

The ideal candidate will share the College’s commitment to educating its racially and socioeconomically diverse student population. As of Fall 2019, we currently enroll approximately 5,500 students in which 36% are Hispanic, 13% are Asian/Pacific Islander, 8% are Black/African American, 25% are White, and 14% are multiracial. The successful candidate will join a department dedicated to the use of curriculum that’s culturally responsive to the students it serves.

Throughout your application materials, we encourage you to highlight your background in fostering an inclusive campus culture and supporting the success of students who are historically underrepresented in higher education. For example, your efforts might include contributions in the areas of teaching, mentoring, advising, research, and/or institutional service.

Primary Responsibilities
