Lecturer in Curriculum and Instruction: Learning and Organizational Change (Multiple Positions; Online; Non-Tenure-Track)

SCHOOL: Baylor's School of Education, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary in 2019, ranks among the nation's top 20 education schools located at private universities. With 50 full-time faculty members, the school's growing research portfolio complements its long-standing commitment to excellence in teaching and student mentoring.

The school boasts an array of excellent academic offerings in three academic departments--Curriculum and Instruction, Educational Leadership and Educational Psychology. Baylor's undergraduate program in teacher education, enrolling 450 students, has earned the School of Education national distinction for its innovative partnerships with local schools that provide future teachers deep clinical preparation. Nearly 175 graduate students pursue advanced study and professional preparation in master's, EdS, EdD, PhD programs.

Through exciting new academic initiatives both at home and abroad and searches underway for faculty colleagues, the school has entered into a period of significant expansion and of deepened impact through the production of meaningful, high-quality research and the preparation of outstanding leaders, teachers and clinicians.

UNIVERSITY: Baylor University is a private Christian university and a nationally-ranked research institution, consistently listed with highest honors among The Chronicle of Higher Education’s “Great Colleges to Work For.” The university is recruiting new faculty with a deep commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and scholarship. Baylor seeks faculty who share in our aspiration to become a tier one research institution while strengthening our distinctive Christian mission as described in our strategic vision, Pro Futuris (http://www.baylor.edu/profuturis). As the world's largest Baptist University, Baylor offers over 40 doctoral programs and has almost 17,000 students from all 50 states and more than 80 countries.

POSITION: Lecturer in Curriculum and Instruction: Learning and Organizational Change (Online, Non-Tenure-Track)

QUALIFICATIONS: Consistent with the stated mission of the University to be a world-class institution dedicated to Christian principles and ideals the qualifications for the position include: An earned doctorate/terminal degree in education or a related discipline and expertise in at least one of these areas: Learning Foundations; Organizational Change; Research Methods.

LOCATION: Interested persons must be located within 100 miles of Waco, Texas as regular, on-campus events are necessary.
RESPONSIBILITIES: The Department of Curriculum and Instruction prepares educators through established undergraduate degrees with elementary, middle grades education and secondary education majors; master’s degrees, a PhD in Curriculum and Teaching, and an EdD in Learning and Organizational Change. We seek multiple lecturers to support the newly established Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Learning and Organizational Change in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction. The requested faculty members will have a 4-4-4 teaching load in the trimester program and may serve as the lead instructor or section instructor for one or more of the courses in the program, prepare/revise materials for the asynchronous portion of the instructional program, lead the weekly synchronous sessions, support the training provided in the On-Campus Immersion experiences, advise and mentor students as they develop a Problem of Practice, review admission applications, and serve in other ways in support of the academic program.

SALARY AND BEGINNING DATE: The salary will be commensurate with qualifications and professional experience. The anticipated dates of appointment are at the beginning of the Summer Trimester in May, 2021 or Fall Trimester, 2021.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: Review of applications will begin immediately and will be accepted until the position is filled.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: A complete application includes a letter of application which describes the applicant’s area(s) of expertise; curriculum vitae; completed application form; and a copy of transcripts documenting terminal degree (official transcripts required prior to on-campus interview). Candidates should be prepared to list contact information for three references.

Materials must be submitted electronically to: https://apply.interfolio.com/81540

Baylor University is a private not-for-profit university affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, Baylor is committed to compliance with all applicable anti-discrimination laws, including those regarding age, race, color, sex, national origin, marital status, pregnancy status, military service, genetic information, and disability. As a religious educational institution, Baylor is lawfully permitted to consider an applicant’s religion as a selection criterion. Baylor encourages women, minorities, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply.